CBD 🥰🥰🥰

Ok, BUT, @equilibriawomen is doing some pretty amazing work in the space and they answered all of my questions on a 45-minute phone call. Here's what I learned!

What does CBD do? Full-spectrum hemp oil reduces inflammation, which could help with anxiety, nerve, and muscle pain. CBD works within your endocannabinoid system to create balance in your body. For me - I've noticed a significant difference in my anxiety between CBD and ...just mentally shilling the E out 🤔 Just like brookebrookssc Real talk: this little bottle has replaced ►► ALL of these medicines. And my doctors are 100% ok with it. I've been pretty open about my mental health struggles. I suffer from severe depression, severe panic disorder, and a severe anxiety disorder. That's what my sign out slip always has checked when I check out at my Psychiatrist office. I also have a horrible back which they've said I need surgery for and recently was diagnosed with Crohn's. Whew. That's a lot. I am so grateful for @equilibriawomen and that they reached out to me and literally gave me a new lease on life. They are my saving grace, my rescue boat, and my legit lifesavers. •

I found out the hard way that not all

hellojennabee Ok, tell me all your tricks, tips & experiences with CBD oil! My oncologist was the one who encouraged me to try some to see if it would help with my bone pain & body aches from my blood cancer. I don't know why I felt embarrassed or like I was doing something wrong. It's not like it's illegal nor do you get a high from it. But when you live with chronic pain you get over yourself real fast. So even though this is the third brand that I've tried & the 5th bottle total over the past year, I feel like a newbie. Before I bought any CBD oil, I did a ton of research on what makes an oil good (my good may be different for you, but I look for them being full spectrum, CO2 extracted, organic, & locally sourced in the USA) I don't know why sherridickens For the last few years, I've been dealing with insomnia. And anxiety. And an acute case of GettingOldEverythingHurts-itis. But since Peanut Butter M&Ms are very rude and refuse to turn into actual medicine, I've partnered with @equilibriawomen, a premium CBD company for women, with an entirely female staff. <sponsored> I'm not new to the CBD trend, because if ever there's a bandwagon, I'll jump right on, and probably start trying to drive it. But y'all, Equilibria's products have been a game changer for me, because, um HI? Hand- harvested, full spectrum hemp oil, from Equilibria's own farm in Colorado? Pleaseandthankyou.
